An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

The following description of the drawings was taken from the text in the drawings in order to place the specification into standard US format. At page 5, line 20, the following paragraph has been inserted:

--Description of the Drawings

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

None of the references show a cookware release agent that can be dispensed from an aerosol that uses a lecithin treated with alkali and a fatty acid at the same time. The references to Purves teach the production of alkali-treated lecithin but this reaction occurs during the cooking process and is not dispensed as an aerosol. Also applicant shows the advantages of the use of the particular alkali-treated lecithin of the claims in terms of improved lightness in appearance and improved anti-stick properties.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
